80th anniversary

Welcome to Dulwich Choral Society's annual Come and Sing workshop. Edward Elgar's 1912 The Music Makers is a wonderful cantata, very singable, original, and full of quotes from his other masterpieces. Its compact length and English text makes it ideal for both choir members and newcomers to make music together.

The day will include the usual emphasis on singing technique as well as fresh coffee and various homemade cakes. It will be a lot of fun and a great chance to meet new faces be it from other choirs or people wanting to try something new. After a day working through the music and touching on vocal technique, we bring it all together for an informal concert at 4pm. Lunch not included but ticket includes music hire, tea, coffee and extensive home baked refreshments. See you there!
